Crossfield Village Council Holds Regular Monthly Meeting

United Church Represented In Regard to Basement

POLICE UNIFORM

The regular monthly meeting of the Council of the Village of Crossfield was held in the Fire Hall Monday evening last, June 5th, with the Mayor and all councillors present. The minutes of the previous meeting were read, and after some discussion, adopted;

United Church Basement

Mr. F. A. Purvis was present at the meeting and brought the matter of a basement for the United Church up to the council. He stated that plans were already made and that building would commence very soon, but he asked, on behalf of the Church, if the council would allow them to place the dirt on the street near the church. After considering the matter, it was decided to grant the church this privilege and that the street would be closed while the dirt is being spread on same.

Motor Vehicle for Fire Brigade.

Being instructed by the Fire Brigade at their last meeting, Mayor W. J. Wood brought up the matter of a motor vehicle which can be purchased and made into a suitable truck for the mounting and transportation of one of the Chemical Engines.

It was agreed by the council to purchase this vehicle and pay the difference, the Fire Brigade Brigade having a sum of $75.00 in the bank, which is to be used for that purpose.

Court of Revision

A court of revision will be held in the Fire Hall on Monday, June 26th, commencing at 8 o'clock.

Suit for Night Constable.

E. M. Tweedale met the council in regard to the purchase of a policeman's uniform for Mr. J. Willox, the night constable. After discussing and considering the difference it would make in his authority, it was decided to purchase the uniform.

Routine Business

The balance of the meeting was taken up with routine business, and adjourned.

MUNICIPALITIES SUCCEED IN CONTROL OF WEEDS

We learn that the Provincial Weed authorities are well pleased with the weed control work done by the Rosebud Municipality, and it is gratifying to hear that this Municipality, with the Beddington Municipality, has been at the top of the list for the past ten years.

Mr. Crisfeld, the Weed Inspector, has quite a little credit coming to him for the way in which this work is being carried out.

Elevators Increase Weighing Capacity

Mr. A. McMillan, agent of the local Alberta Pool Elevator informs us that new scales, 30 feet long and a weighing capacity of 15 tons, have replaced the old ones in the past week. There is now space to unload semi-trailers of largest trucks. These scales are the largest and, with a few additions can be changed to a 20-ton capacity.

The Alberta Pacific Elevator has also undergone a change. The scales have been changed to a capacity of twelve and a half tons, and the foundation has been strengthened.

Saturday Big Time For Local Kiddies

Messrs. Van Dusen Bros., of Edmonton, will be in Crossfield this Saturday with their merry-go-round and ferris wheel to show those who enjoy this sport a real good time.

This is an all-Edmonton show, and the men operating it are well experienced, having worked with the Conklin and Garrett shows for a number of years. It is their aim to show the kiddies a good time and to come back again next year.

Remember the date, Saturday June 10th, this week, and have a good time. Fun for everybody.

Messrs. McPhail and Foulds Hold Interest of Young Grain Growers Last Friday

Friday evening last, the members and others interested in the newly-formed Junior Wheat Club, gathered at the local U.F.A. Hall, with Neil Laut as President and Bob Stewart, Secretary.

Mr. Foulds, of the Dominion Seed Branch, was the main speaker of the evening and gave an interesting talk on Red Bobs wheat, explaining the different stages, etc.

Mr. McPhail, of the Agricultural School, Olds, showed a two-reel motion picture of the germination and harvesting of weedy crops, and the cleaning machinery used.

Inspection will soon be made of our boys' plots, and another examination will be made later.

Heavy Rainfall Over Weekend Brightens And Betters Crops

Since Saturday afternoon last, when the rain commenced, the official rain gauge registered over two and a half inches of rain, which replenishes what the dry weeks of April and May took.

Fields are green and fresh, bringing smiles and chuckles to the friends and neighbours, who are hoping for the best of conditions and crops this year.

With the clouds still dark overhead, it appears that the shower which commenced last weekend has not yet subsided, and we are looking forward to more moisture and the results of the same.

Town and District Board of Trade Attends to Needed Projects

R. Fleming Around After Serious Mishap Two Weeks Ago

We are glad to see our friend Roland Fleming on Broadway again after the serious injuries sustained in a recent accident.

According to Mr. W. Gilson, neither of the two men on the back of the D.P.W. truck had intended to jump and did not, but were thrown from the truck and Mr. Fleming had the misfortune to get his foot caught and hung in front of the back wheel, as stated in last week's paper. Mr. Gilson also informed us that, after Mr. Fleming regained consciousness, he was taken to his home in town, where Dr. Whillans attended to him, and who later took him to Calgary for an X-Ray, and that his leg was not broken, but the muscles were torn from the bone which, Mr. Gilson informed us, is as serious as being broken.

PUBLISHED AS SUBMITTED

Somewhat relaxed after the roar and bustle of the presses and glad once again that the paper had been finished and delivered to the post office, the publishers were enjoying the warm sunshine of the late afternoon of Thursday last, and making arrangements to clean the shop and prepare for other work that must be done. WHEN, to the editor's surprise, who should break the quietness and peace, but Mr. D. H. McFadyen, who was in an inexplicable mood, wishing to have his subscription cancelled and an apology in this week's paper for the lies told about a serious accident last week.

It so happened that the information was given us by some one who had a personal interview with the victim, and, —Dr. Whillans himself informed the editor, who made a special trip to ask him, that he was taking the victim to Calgary for an X-Ray.

Discuss Field Day at Olds, Sports Day, Banquet, Sign

UNVEILING CAIRN

On Thursday evening last, June 1st, the local Board of Trade assembled in the Oliver Hotel dining room to arrange and plan the different projects for the coming season.

After the minutes of the last meeting were read and adopted, correspondence was taken up, followed by reports from the various committees.

Field Day at Olds

Since the Field Day held at Olds last July was a very successful event, it was decided to go this year, near the end of July. The members of the Agricultural Committee will arrange the matter with Mr. Murray, principal of the Olds School of Agriculture.

Sports Day

Owing to July 1st being on a Saturday, it was not decided when the regular sports should be held, whether Friday, the day before, or Saturday, so it was left to the committee in charge to interview the merchants and plans will be made.

Banquet

A discussion was brought up in connection with having a banquet sometime in the near future, to be open to all members and their friends who are interested in the welfare of the Crossfield district.

Approach Sign

The matter of having the sign at the approach to the village repainted was brought up, and it was unanimously agreed to have it done, as this is a very good advertisement for Crossfield, and there is not another such on the line. This is in the hands of the Public Affairs committee and will be carried out.

Unveiling of Memorial

Mr. R. D. Sutherland stated that according to the contractors, Messrs. McTavish and McKay, (continued on page six)

CROSSFIELD, THURSDAY, JUNE 8, 1939

Shopping Campaign for Crossfield.

IT WOULD SEEM that such a thing as a shopping campaign in and for our little town would not be a successful event, but when one thinks of what other towns and villages are doing, there is still "prosperity around the corner" and business can be brought to and kept in Crossfield.

We all say that business goes to Calgary; what is the attraction? Is it because of the so called "bright lights" or because the merchants there offer more and better bargains? Seldom does one hear that "I saved enough in Calgary to take a holiday, or pay the light bill, or buy an extra sack of flour." People who do not shop at home sometimes say that they saved three cents on a ten-pound sack of sugar, but they never say that they spent so much for a show, it was necessary to have dinner there, and the most popular dining places are on eighth avenue.

What IS the attraction? To begin with, we notice that the windows of the Calgary stores are well illuminated and decorated during the long hours of the evenings, and merchandise is so well displayed that most shoppers do their "picking out" after store-closing hours, when traffic is not so heavy and there is plenty of time to pick out the thing required or wished.

Many fine evenings, in our own little town, residents enjoy the nice, cool air, and usually, when there is no other place to go, the front street is the main attraction. So, merchants, to attract some attention, how would it be to, instead of pulling the blinds at night, load the windows with bargains (nice flashy price tickets,) decorate with a bit of crepe paper or something attractive, and then watch for results. We will find that it will not be long, so and so will come into the store and say, "I saw such and such an article in your window last night at a bargain price."

It is claimed that there is "no money" around to be spent. We maintain that if travelling money were used for home purchases, conditions would soon improve and the community spirit, which we so long for, would prevail.

A good suggestion for our local Board of Trade, whose members are always on the "look-out" for something to better conditions and do something for the local merchant, to take up the matter at hand. Gentlemen, let us, as citizens of the best little town in the west, get together and DO SOMETHING.

Sports Day is just ahead. Why not sponsor a "sports day home-shopping event?" Let's go, we're with you to the end.

The Voice of "Good Morning Neighbour"

That cheery person you hear every morning at nine-fifteen, and who greets you with 'Good Morning Neighbour' is that wielder of pen (publicity Department) and voice, Frank Fleming. For almost a year and-a-half now he has been entertaining and advising his many, many 'Good Morning Neighbour' friends, with hints to the 'Lovely Lady', his 'Musical Recipes', and his novel 'Penny Stretchers'.

Perhaps the highest of the whole half-hour is the 'Musical Recipe'. It is a novel way of giving a recipe, and yet it keeps the show going at top pitch all the way. Each ingredient is represented musically, giving time to copy the recipe without the pause which makes you wonder if you shouldn't phone the station to see if it is still on the air. As far as cooking is concerned, Frank claims to know nothing about it, but you should see him wave a mean griddle and coffee-pot on a weiner-roast or picnic.

When it comes to the 'Penny Stretchers', Mr. Fleming adds some of his own, as well as giving those in the script. They really are timely, and save money for that show or holiday.... or at least give a chance for 'hubby' to get something different on the weekly menu.

Naturally in a year and a half on the air, certain interesting incidents have occurred. Once, the program was going nicely, when a naughty breeze blew Frank's script right off the stand in front of him, and he had to ad-lib for a full minute before a thoughtful member of the cast picked it up for him. Another time a vocalist got a little absent-minded, and the introduction was played twice before the artist realized that the 'time had come'. Since all radio programs are timed to the second, smooch F.E.F. had a worried few minutes trying to find a place to 'out'. Again, in the middle of a musical selection, there was a sound like a pistol shot. For a moment the people at the station thought Frank had met a sad end, but it was only the snapping of an 'E' string on a musician's violin. Somewhat of a precedent was set, when the whole show was stopped until a new string could be replaced and tuned.

The program is proving more popular day by day, and as one neighbor tells another neighbor, "Be sure to hear, 'Good Morning Neighbour!'"

A Weighty Problem

Pat Freeman, CFAC Production Manager, and special guest commentator for the CBC during the Royal Visit, has been reducing by means of bar bells—

The World of Wheat.

By H. G. L. Strange

The time for summerfallowing, that most essential operation of Western agriculture, is with us again.

Summerfallowing is an ancient practise. In most countries it is practised only to destroy weeds, for weeds undoubtedly are a most effective means of depriving the soil of precious moisture, and so of causing a heavy loss in crop yield. In Western Canada, however, summerfallowing is usually done for an even more important reason, which is to conserve an extra year's supply of moisture, and so to gain a better assurance of a crop the following year.

Records reveal that the best rains in our Prairie Provinces fall as a rule early in June. The earlier, therefore, that summerfallowing can be done, obviously the more moisture will be conserved, and also of course early cultivation means that less weeds will grow.

Ploughing, unfortunately, while it kills weeds is a great dissipator of moisture. Wherever it is possible, therefore, surface cultivation only of the summerfallow, either with the one way disc, or the duckfoot cultivator, should be done, for this method will conserve more moisture than ploughing. If, however, a field is infested with well-rooted perennials then the plough may have to be used, but in general ploughing should be avoided if at all possible.

trying to keep his weight within sight of the 200 pound mark. The bar-bells turned up missing, and it was later found that "Pat" had lugged them all the way across the continent and back again. Pity the poor bell hops, from coast to coast, who had to carry Pat's luggage!

King George VI

A HISTORY IN THIRTY

CHAPTER TWENTY-SIX

"Our deeds still travel with us from afar.

And what we have been makes us what we are."

—George Eliot.

In the earlier years of his life, the Duke of York, who is now King George the Sixth, did not appear frequently in the lime-light on account of his activities at school or college, his intensive training in the Navy, his active service in the World War, and for a time due to his serious handicap of poor health, but when the World War was over the second son of the King relieved his father and eldest brother from many of their burdens of public life. He represented the King when the monarch of the Belgians marched triumphantly into Brussels in November 1918; he returned to this city in February 1921 to honour the famous Burgomaster Max and Prince de Croy; he acted for his father at the Royal wedding of King Alexander of Serbia and Princess Marie of Rumania which took place in Belgrade in 1922; he was present at the Coronation of the King and Queen of Rumania in October 1922; he acted as the representative of the British Royal Family on numerous occasions at home in his own native land. But the real public duties of the Duke increased rapidly right after his marriage to Lady Elizabeth Bowes-Lyon, and it is no secret that the royal couple were much in demand everywhere.

In 1923 the Duke and Duchess of York travelled to Belgrade where the Duke represented the King at the christening of Prince Peter, the infant son of King Alexander and Queen Marie. In July 1924 the Royal couple paid an official visit to Northern Ireland where they stayed at Clonduboy for a short time and then proceeded to Baron's Court where they met the Governor-General.

After their return to England, they made plans for their longest trip since their marriage, formulating arrangements for a voyage to East Africa which they started on December 8th by leaving Marseilles aboard the steamer Mulbera. They were accompanied by a very small staff consisting of Lady Annaly as companion to the Duchess, the Rear-Admiral Sir Basil Brook and Lieutenant-Commander Colin Buist acting in attendance on the Duke. The boat arrived at Mombasa on December 21st, and they were entertained by the Governor of Kenya the late Sir Robert Coryndon, receiving at the same time a first taste of native customs and ceremonials. However, both the Duke and Duchess were anxious to study at first hand the life in this outpost of the Empire, and soon they were on their way into the interior of Africa, living in the outdoors and enjoying real wild game hunting until February 1925, when they came back again to Nairobi, the capital of the colony and the first sign of civilization in that region. Then followed a number of very exciting and interesting trips during the course of which they had occasions to visit Victoria Nyanza, the White Nile, the Blue Nile, Kampala, Port Portal, Semliki, Bunyoro, Rejaf, Kosti, and other actions including most of Uganda. They returned to civilization once more when the party came to Khartoum on April 7th. Their travels offered an excellent opportunity to study the administration of colonial territories, the work of pioneers and missionaries, the habits and thoughts of natives such as Arabs, Nubians, and so forth, and otherwise gave them valuable (continued on page 5, column 2) experiences how to control a vast Empire, they were destined to head at a later date in history. In the middle of April they reached London after an enjoyable voyage which undoubtedly proved a happy and useful experience, though it was only the start of their efforts to cement the bonds of the great Empire.

as witnessed by our reporter in one of the local cafes, one beautiful evening.

In glass, perfectly harmless.
One glass, if taken internally, causes slight dizziness.

Two glasses, more dizziness; often a little giddiness.

Three glasses, plenty giddiness often a little fighting spirit.

Four glasses, either a fight or a dash for the door.

Five glasses, knees grow weak.
Six glasses, much weaker.

Seven glasses, some unable to stand up but do some funny things lying down.

Eight glasses, boy, aint we got fun.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

As an act of courtesy "Letters to the Editor" are published, and the Chronicle cannot be held responsible for the opinions expressed.

As we have three systems of local administration it is possible that the so called plan of tax remission may work out very well in a T.I.D. or unorganized territory, while it would be of no advantage to a municipality. It is in no sense a remission of taxes in so far as the ratepayer earns all he gets at a very moderate wage, nor does it differ essentially from a grant, in that the money advanced comes from provincial revenue.

I quote below a list of figures from the records of Beaver Dam M.D.

Municipal Arrears: 1928-$9,579
1932-$20,713; 1933-$20,879; 1936-$18,177; 1938-$17,104.

Supplementary Arrears, 2 mills: 1929-$3,314; 1932-$6,896.

Arrears, Social Service, 3 mills: 1936-$7,864; 1937-$9,836; 1938-$8,995.

Social Service taxes collected: 1936-$6783; 1937-$6336; 1938-$7,051.

There may be some point to the government introducing this plan in districts where arrears of taxes have become frozen, but it would seem to be more simple and at least as effective in a municipality whose financial position, by all reasonable standards should be considered satisfactory, to let them carry on, issuing a direct cash grant, providing we are entitled to any.

In this discussion I have neither advocated nor criticised good grants, but merely treated them as the usually recognised method of provincial assistance, although I have asked one correspondent who criticises such grants, to propose a better method.

Yours Truly
F. D. Parker.

And then, out comes another Chronicle, but it's going to be a booster from now on.

Professor J. B. S. Haldane, noted British authority, is reported as follows in the NEW CHRONICLE. While there is still much unknown, there are causes of cancer which can be fought. The most important is poverty, the second the excessive use of alcohol. The death rates in the alcoholic trades from cancer of the mouth, throat, gullet, etc., at ages under 65 are more than double the average. Recent inquiry has shown that cancer is particularly common among beer drinkers. "In fact" the scientist adds, "a man is about five times as likely to get cancer if he drinks beer daily and no milk, as if he drinks milk daily and no beer."

truck, carrying fifty-nine passengers and their necessary impedimenta, left Crossfield at 5:30 Friday morning and returned Sunday night, after visiting most of the points of outstanding interest around Banff, Lake Louise and Field, B.C. The party made use of the very commodious camp at Mt. Stephen on both Friday and Saturday nights.

On Friday the party had lunch at Marble Canyon, a most spectacular gorge on the road to Radium Hot Springs. This canyon is notable for its perpendicular marble rock formation, and is a very fine example of the erosive force of water. In attempting to describe his impression of this phenomenon of nature one student remarked, "A sight to thrill any soul—a piece of work impossible by human hands." After visiting

Lake Louise late in the afternoon, the party motored down Kicking Horse Pass to the camp at Mt. (please turn to page eight)

IN THOUSANDS OF Canadian homes, life insurance money pays the bills—helps to support widows and children—and provides for old age.

Life insurance dollars buy the food for three square meals a day. They buy clothing and other necessities of life. They pay the rent and fuel bills to ensure warm, comfortable homes. They give children an education and a mother's care.

Each year, life insurance policy-owners and their beneficiaries in Canada receive 150 million dollars—five hundred thousand dollars every working day—twenty thousand dollars every hour.

And it is significant that more than 75% of all life insurance payments are made to living policyholders.

Around Field And Barn.

By E. M. C.

I rather foolishly allowed myself to be drawn into an argument last week, and had no space to mention something of greater interest that I saw just before the good rain.

It was a large field that had been tilled and well packed, it looked like a garden, a beautiful job. Last year this field had been fully 50 percent wild oats and when I first saw it this spring about 13th, it was black, then came the rain.

Today that field is green as pasture with a thick rank growth of wild oats.

I would say this farmer will get a 90 pc. kill within germination depth. He was unable to do any fall work, but certainly made up for it this spring.

If growing conditions allow, he plans to destroy as late as possible and sow for greenfeed, cutting the crop green, with a high stubble. Next year this field can be lightly tilled and sown to wheat; there will be some wild oats of course, but you should have seen the mess last year. There will be no soil drifting and no unproductive acres.

Those in like circumstances please note.

It seems that those farmers who are protesting because they now have to go to town for hopper bait are very unreasonable. For many it is nearer than it was to the mixing stations so that those who have had to go quite a distance the past two years, now have the advantage—fair enough.

Those who have never had any experience of a mixing station, have no idea of the trouble, inconvenience and danger it entails. The buildings in which this mixing is done are ruined, and cannot be used again for grain or stock, they are poison-soaked and useless.

Added to this is the dangers of the operators own stock being poisoned as the bait is often carelessly scattered around the yards and gates, and stock has been poisoned as a result, without compensation to the operators. And dry mixing and handling is worse, and the government department has decided that this must be done at a central point, and shipped out in car lots.

As 60 pc. of the load was water, this is a great help to the farmer, and the bait can now be kept without danger of heating.

It should be remembered that hopper bait is now free, all we have to do is "get it and spread it". The Department has not yet undertaken to spread it for you, but it might—ask it, anyway.

Since we are out for news to keep our paper in Crossfield, it is and has been our earnest endeavour to get all we can and publish same as brought to us and the information given us elsewhere.

Who, dear readers, is the one to apologize?

Had Mr. McFadyen come to us in a gentleman-like manner to inform us of an error, we would gladly and humbly apologize, even though we are not to blame, but in this case—

Mrs. Davis, of Drumbeller, and Rev. and Mrs. Pickford, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. J. Gilchrist and Lois, motored to Vancouver Monday, where Rev. Pickford is to speak at a Baptist Young People's rally. Miss Ruth Stauffer accompanied them as far as Blairmore, where she is visiting her sister, Mrs. J. W. MacDonald.

Cremona Notes

The Government School Clinic was in Cremona, April 29-30, with over 206 children examined, and over 39 operations and 61 teeth extractions and 54 fillings, which in general seems to be a very good success. It was held in the Cremona Community Hall. Several of the patients operated on had to remain over night.

We see the ads are out for Snow White and the 7 Dwarfs for the hall, June the 7th. A large attendance is expected, as the hall is being filled at all shows since the Talkies have come.

The late rains have improved the crops a great deal and everything is looking good.

We understand that Cremona is going to hold its sports on June the 30th, on the Hall grounds.

We hear that Fred McClusky is going to run the pool hall as soon as Mr. Waterstreet moves into his new place of business, which is being hurried along.

We see the Telephone Company is building a new piece of line north of town.

The Government bridge crew is refacing the steel bridge west of town and putting in a new bridge four miles north of town, near the old Bennett farm.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear mother Susannah High who passed away June 5th 1938. Your cheery smile and kindly ways.

Stephen.

Saturday forenoon was spent at the falls in Yoho Valley. It had been the intention of Mr. Gish to lead the party to the glacier at the head of the valley, but after a bit of scouting it was found impossible because of rock slides and snow to make the trip safely. Instead of attempting a questionable venture, the party motored to the Natural Bridge west of Field and to the very lovely Emerald Lake in speaking of Emerald Lake one student remarked, "It was the most lovely and peaceful scene I ever saw—a place where one could forget the talk about little things and about terrible things, like trouble and war."

According to schedule, the party motored to Moraine Lake and the Valley of The Ten Peaks on Sunday morning. Here Mr. Gish led the group to the terminal moraine of the glacier which feeds the lake. This moraine is an excellent example of the work of a glacier. After having spent several hours on this formation, one of the students said, "Now I can understand what we were talking about in class." Another student offered the opinion that "A stove of a glacier in class did not give me a very good idea of what I now see. I had no idea of the extent and immenseness of a terminal moraine until we started to climb this thing. It seems almost impossible that there can be ten miles of so many different kinds of rocks at one place."

Arriving again at Banff, some of the party had a swim at the Cave and Basin before supper. The weather was propitious throughout the entire trip and all had an enjoyable and profitable week-end.

The staff and students are grateful to all those who helped them in so many ways to make their tour a success.
